EXTERIOR DESCRIPTION:

The Davidsonville United Methodist Church Parsonage is located on the south side of Central Avenue next to the Davidsonville United Methodist Church.

It is a two-and one-half story stucco structure with a parged brick foundation. A porch extends across the front of the house. The porch has a hipped roof supported by four Tuscan-style pillars and a wooden balustrade fence across the front and east side with wooden steps on the west side, providing access from the ground to the porch. The pyramid-shaped shingled roof has a pyramid-roofed dormer in the front section with triple nine-paned windows.

On the front of the house on the first floor is a triple window with six-over-one panes and a door to the east side having 15 panes. The second floor has two symmetrically spaced six-over-one windows.

The front third of the east side of the house has one six-over-one window on the first level with an identical window directly over it on the second floor. The center area of this side projects outward accommodating a ground-level door to the cellar. A six-over-one window between the floors apparently lights the staircase. This section of the house has a hipped roof which stops within one foot from the main roof soffit. The roof, overall, has a wide overhang. A pair of smaller six-over-one windows are to the rear of the first-floor level with a wooden stairway leading to the second story. This stairway appears to have been a later addition. There is a door at the top.

The rear elevation of the house has a shed-roofed extension across the entire back of the house, accommodating a covered porch to the right. The exterior right corner of the porch roof is supported by a small square post. There is a door to the house with a single pane over three horizontal panels. Centered in the remaining back portion of the first floor is a small six-over-one window to the left of the porch, followed by a pair of six-over-one windows.

A brick chimney protrudes through the porch roof and continues flush to the exterior wall of the second floor, exiting through the main roof. Abutting the chimney to the right is one window and two more to the left of center, all of the same size, having six-over-one panes.

The west side of the house, at the first floor rear, has a door with three horizontal lights over three horizontal panels. There is a shallow bay with three windows on the first level, the center window with eight-over-one panes, the two side windows with six-over-one panes. The second story of the bay has a high fixed four-light window flanked by six-over-one windows.
